ABOUT US

“ The University of Roehampton is a diverse, sociable and academically rigorous university with over 8,500 students.

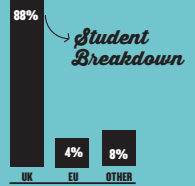

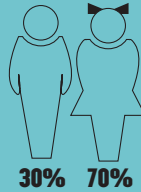

Our campus University feels so far removed from the capital in its wonderful grounds yet Close to the city of London, our students spend their money within a wide range of stores, services and leisure activities and go on to affluent careers across a wide range of sectors.

You can communicate your brand or business to them through an exciting variety of advertising opportunities on campus and online; read on to find out more. ”
